Any entry application may be reasonably or unreasonably declined by the Organizing Authority without recourse by the applicant. The foregoing notwithstanding, each sailing, shore crew, and other race participant agrees that the sole responsibility for the safety of each participant in the Worrell 1000 Reunion Race lies with that individual participant, and acceptance of an entry or of an entry's personnel to participate in the race, in any capacity whatsoever, does not shift the responsibility to the Organizing Authority or to any other person or entity.

Further, each prospective registrant and participant understands and agrees that the failure of a registrant or participant to sign the said contract will result in denial of permission for that person to participate in the race in any manner whatsoever, whether on shore, on the water, as a sailor, or otherwise. Registrant shall communicate this requirement to each prospective ground crew, sailing crew or other member of registrant's team and shall ensure that each of them signs the said contract.
